

PC(USA) Young Adult Volunteers September 2004 - August 2005

PC(USA) Young Adult Volunteers are placed in sites all around the country. Each site works with ministries serving those in need. Volunteers meet regularly for prayer and Bible study, work with mentors to explore and grow in expression of their Christian faith, and build each other up as Disciples of Jesus Christ. The program is open to ages 19-30. Here are three YAV's from the Presbytery of Western North Carolina:

CARRIE DAVENPORT

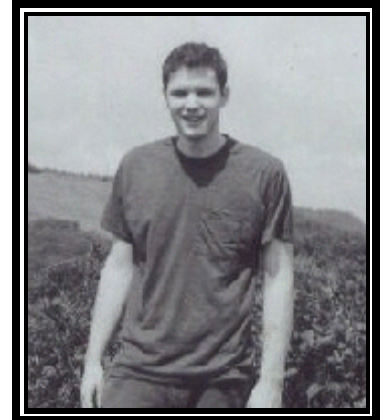

West Avenue, Gastonia to Seattle's Urban Intentional Communities: SUIC is an intentional Christian community that ministers to inner-city youth or street youth, the elderly, the homeless, refugees, incarcerated youth/adults, the mentally ill, low income families or single mothers.

CARRIE'S PRAYER REQUESTS:

Safety as I travel and experience life in an unfamiliar area;
The people in Seattle with whom I come in contact;
Ability to use my God-given gifts to make a difference through my work in Seattle.

ROB MOORE

Green Mountain to Nashville Epiphany Project, Nashville, TN:
As an Epiphany Young Adult Volunteer, Rob will be a contributing and responsible member of an intentional Christian community. He will spend two-thirds of his time in urban ministry and one-third recruiting, mobilizing, and involving volunteers from Second Presbyterian Church in the activities of these ministries.

CRAIG HAY

Grace Covenant, Asheville to Campbell Farm, Wapato, WA: The Campbell Farm is a mission station, small conference and retreat center and working farm located on the Yakama Indian Reservation in Central Washington.

CRAIG'S PRAYER REQUESTS:

Continued health so I may bring energy and light into all I do;
Guidance, since this is the first year with Young Adult Volunteers at the Campbell Farm;
Most importantly, flexibility so that my goals and expectations do not get in the way of God's plan for me.
